

Orientation for AIMR Joint Research Center Scientists FY2023

The FY2023 IAC Orientation was held in a face-to-face for researchers affiliated with the three AIMR Joint Research Centers, the University of Cambridge, the University of Chicago, and Tsinghua University. The orientation included an overview of AIMR and a lab tour, including a greeting and interview with the director, which proved to be a very useful time for understanding AIMR and discussing collaborative research with other AIMR members.
